A birthday party for Mum

Yang Yahan, Livia (5A)

Yesterday was my mum's birthday. My sister, Eva and I decided to organise a party for mum. I was responsible for buying snacks, drinks and cakes, and Eva would be in charge of tidying the living room as well as writing some blessings on the birthday card.

First, I went to ABC Supermarket to buy some snacks and drinks. When I was coming out of the supermarket, my phone rang, it was Eva. 'Hi, it's Eva. Have you bought all the food yet?' Eva asked me. 'No, I have just bought the snacks and the drinks, but I haven't bought the cake yet. Anyway, have you tidied the living room yet?' I asked. 'Yes, I have already done that, But I'm still drawing the birthday card,' she replied. 'Maybe I can help you,' I suggested. 'Great!' my sister shouted. So I went home and helped Eva.

In the evening, we celebrated together. Mum was really surprised! Suddenly, Eva asked me, 'Where's the cake?' I was shocked. I forgot to buy the cake! I felt very sad and embarrassed. My mum smiled and said, 'That's okay! Maybe we can eat noodles instead of cakes.' Although my mum forgave me, I still felt sorry.

What an unforgettable day!
