

A cooking class

Tse Cheuk Wing, Cherie (4A)

My mum and I had a cooking class in a children's centre today. My friend, Faye and her mum also joined the cooking class.

In the class, the teacher said, 'For baking a cake, we need two eggs, some butter and flour. First, please beat the eggs!' The teacher taught us how to bake a cake patiently. We needed to measure the flour and mixed it up with the eggs and butter. After that, my mum put the cake in the oven. I felt excited because I couldn't wait to try the cake. Suddenly, some black smoke came out from the oven and we were scared. My mum turned off the oven at once but the cake was burnt.

In the end, we made another cake. We made a cheesecake. It was delicious. Faye's cake was yummy too. We wanted to give the cake to my dad tomorrow for his birthday. It was a fun day.
