I had a sad day today.

I went to a toy shop in the morning to buy a new toy. It was a large shop. I bought a robot cat. I was excited and thought that it was cute.

The cat said, 'Hello!' I was very amazed. So I clapped and thought if I bought a robot cat to school, everyone around would be jealous of it.

Then, I brought it to school. At first, I felt happy but I was embarrassed after everyone was looking at me.

In the end, my teacher took away my toy. She told my mum about it. I was sad. I thought I would never bring toys to school.
