

A detective story

Zhang Jenny(6A)

Yesterday at three o'clock in the afternoon, a theft happened outside Rose Restaurant. A woman's smartphone was grabbed by a man after she had lunch by herself. She rushed back to the restaurant and asked for help. She was very afraid. Her face was as pale as a ghost. One of the waitresses helped her to call the police.

Ten minutes later, Detective Mel arrived. The woman who called Mandy was really delighted. She thought she found someone who could help her. Detective Mel asked her to describe the thief. She said, 'The thief is a man with sunglasses, in the jeans and sandals. Please help me to find him.' Detective Mel walked around nearby and asked some passers-by about the thief. Finally, she found three suspects.

Detective Mel asked Mandy, 'I've found three suspects. Can you identify the thief?' 'They look too similar, sorry I can't,' Mandy replied. Detective Mel thought for a while. Suddenly, she had an idea. Detective Mel asked Mandy her phone number. Ring...Ring... 'Got you!' Detective Mel shouted and pointed at one of the suspects.
