

At a Chinese restaurant

Chan Lon Him, Maxton (5B)

This afternoon, we went to a Chinese restaurant. Where we set down, we saw a boy and his mum. Soon, they spoke with food in their mouths and threw a piece of bone on the floor. They were very impolite!

After they finished the meal, the boy ran around the restaurant. His mum kept talking loudly on the phone and didn't care about it.

Suddenly, the boy knocked into the waiter carelessly and the noodles spilt onto his clothes. The boy and his mum were angry and shouted at the waiter. We were very annoyed, so we stared at them impatiently. We didn't want to eat anything.

Finally, the manager came and saw that. He said, 'What happened here?' I said, 'They made me lose my appetite.' The manager apologized and compensated us.
